broadcasting from Columbia, Sierra Nevada De Santa Marta:*

The Heart of the World

This will be hosted by
The Great Balance
Amanda Bernal-Carlo, President

The messages we receive from the Mamos are to support us to restore balance, as we create balance within us, we create balance in our world as representatives of humanity. Our journey is to open the heart, to embrace Mother Earth and to listen from that deep place of inner rhythm and connection to the sacred I AM.

If you heard the calling to join us to receive deeper what is being asked of us during this time on our planet, please recognize this an auspicious time and opportunity.

The call to the Mamos have been heard! They have heard that we, their younger brothers and sisters of the world wish to receive deeper messages of what is being asked of us to create greater shifts within ourselves and on the planet. The Mamos listen deeply to the rhythms of the Mother.

We, the Mamos, speak with Mother Earth, we speak with life and with beings from all kingdoms. From our sacred offices we ask for forgiveness, first for ourselves, our neighbors, the breeze, the water, the animals and the plants. We heal them, we balance them, because by healing and balancing our Elder Brothers, we heal and balance ourselves, because everything is integrated into the whole by interacting with each other and with ourselves. Only when we achieve the new balance will the New Humanity be empowered by solidarity, giving way to the New Earth, promoted, honored, respected and loved.

Some questions that might be addressed, but not limited to, as they bring forth through their deep listening:

- What's happening with the fires in the US?
- What's happening with the Whales on the coast of Tasmania, Australia.
- What's happening to our animals on the planet?
- What's happening to the animals homing ability?
- Why should we be concerned?
- Why should we listen deeper?
- What's happening with the magnetic forces on Mother Earth? How is that affecting us?
- What do we need to do to be more present and grounded within our daily lives, with each other and the Earth?
- As the animals are losing their inner compass how are we losing our inner compasses?
- What state is our inner navigational system in?
- How is this affecting the whole?

We have limited space of 100 participants including the Mamos and our Host. So please connect in early to reserve your place for this important message. This event will be recorded as well.

The more live participants the deeper we can anchor it on the planet. We are deeply humbled and in gratitude for this opportunity to be in reverence to the whole of Mother Earth.

The Great Balance is a work in progress. Each person who contributes to the work adds to its value. Through conversations and experiences, we are learning that planning, development and action to carry out our defined goals and objectives are open-ended, requiring different processes and approaches. Our collective wisdom is more substantive than anything we arrive at separately.
